Dear Sir,

You ask what Glasgow, and Scotland, needs to help improve society - what we need is someone of great courage who will strive to put an end to separate schools in this land.

Children in Nursery schools enjoy harmony and friendship where all the playmates are equal.

At the tender age of 5 society divides these children and for the past century we have had a divided community - this is very wrong.

Let the future youth of this country have the opportunity to develop without the restrictions of religious schools - Catholic, Muslim, Jewish. Let religion be a family matter.

I hope some day someone will have the courage to help our youth to a better harmonious future.
Let Glasgow flourish.
